They'll bring the city alive with fascinating storytelling and anecdotes, while sharing insider tips, information and assistance as you stroll. If you'd prefer to listen in your own language, rather than English, then the app will provide a private multilingual audio experience through your own device.

With Vox City Walks, you can join or leave an escorted circuit whenever you please and enjoy unlimited self-guided sightseeing. This unique audio and navigation functionality enables you to explore the city on your own, discovering hundreds of urban sights along many suggested itineraries and walking routes. HOW IT WORKS

Activating a simple QR code login downloads the Vox City app and its associated city content. Then, sophisticated new technology tracks down the Vox City Walks local experts currently escorting the 'circuit routes' of daytime and evening walking tours.

Intelligent algorithms, activated through a 'Find My Tour' button, provide a real-time pop-up timetable for each starting point, while the mapping system helps navigate users to joining points.

Customers can then join, rejoin, leave or jump between circuits as they please; or continue their unlimited exploration with self-guided sightseeing.
